Mr. Francisco Peltier, one of the most competent bookkeepers and accountants in the country, has accepted the responsible position of head bookkeeper at Cerro de Plata. Mr. Peltier speaks a half dozen languages, including English and Spanish, and will be a valuable acquisition to the splendid working force at the big bonanza mining camp.

The work of installing Nogales' new municipal sewer system is progressing rapidly, to the delight of owners of city property. The engineers in charge of the work under the supervision of City Engineer H. Gordon Glore, are experienced in the business, and when completed Nogales will have a first-class sewer system well worth the price.

Thursday Judge O. Phelps, many years a resident of Mowry, where he owns valuable mining interests, was a business visitor at the county seat. Next week His Honor will depart for his old home in Warren county, Pennsylvania, where he has not visited for many years. He will be accompanied by his daughter, Georgia, and expects to visit in the Keystone state about three months. The judge continues to have unbounded faith in the Mowry mining district, and still has hopes of making a fortune there. In the meantime he is going to enjoy life.

General Ojeda, the fighting federal officer, of Naco fame, accompanied by a number of officers who fought under him, is now on his way to Guaymas to join the federal forces. Ojeda is sure some fighter, and when the state troops attack Guaymas, they'll know he's on the job.

Nogales now enjoys three passenger trains south and three north each week. The trains south leave here at 7 o'clock in the morning on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. The north-bound trains from Empalme arrive here in the evening on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

All day Wednesday County Recorder Phil Herold wore that smile that would not come off. He was busy registering women voters, and being a natural born politician, smiled notwithstanding the fact that he had writer's cramp, and tooth-ache. Many ladies registered, here and at Patagonia.

Manager Snelling of the Isis Theatre reports a fine business, and is already arranging to make a number of needed improvements. A stage and balcony will be added now, and later a roof will do away with the use of rain checks. Snelling says he's in the movie business this time to stay.

A. E. Reddoch, ex-treasurer of Santa Cruz county, who for some time past has been in the employ of the Cerro de Plata Mines Company at Cerro de Plata, has resigned and is enjoying a visit at home with his folks and friends. Mr. Reddoch says the great silver bonanza owned by the Cerro de Plata Mines Company is certainly a world-beater.

The California Carnival Company arrived in the city Wednesday and this evening will be ready to entertain the public, on the railroad grounds in front of the court house. The company spent a week at Globe during the annual reunion of Arizona Elks, and are said to have some interesting attractions, including a merry-go-round for the kiddies—youth and old.

With Mayor L. W. Mix as president of the Nogales baseball league, local fans and visitors here this summer are assured some good ball. All lovers of our great national game should give the League their financial and moral support. Nogales has rattling good ball players, and the coming season the home team should be able to put it over anything in the state.

Superintendent Jack Williams of the Southern Pacific of Mexico, accompanied by the company's accountant, Mr. Shelton Mackenzie, went south Wednesday morning, on a state troop train. Supt. Williams makes Empalme his headquarters, and Mr. Mackenzie resides in Tucson. Last week he attended the big Elks' blowout at Globe, and reports having had a royal good time.

Robert E. Lee, official court reporter in the Superior Court left Wednesday for Florence, to take the testimony in an important case now on trial there. Mr. Lee is an expert stenographer and typist. He was one of three short hand artists who took the testimony in the famous Harry Thaw trial in New York several years ago. Besides being an expert, Bob is every inch a gentleman.

Wednesday evening there arrived from Empalme, Mrs. H. J. Temple and little Miss Temple, wife and daughter of General Superintendent H. J. Temple, who makes Empalme his headquarters. Mrs. J. B. Finley and two little daughters also came up from Empalme, Wednesday evening, and continued on to Tucson, where they will make their home until conditions improve in Sonora.

On Monday afternoon a party armed Sonora robbers cut the fence and drove a bunch of horses and mules from Senator J. A. Harrison's pasture on the American side of the line into Sonora, at the Buena Vista ranch owned by Don Manuel Mascarenas, Sr., to whom most of the stolen horses belonged. In the bunch were three horses belonging to L. B. Fleischer, and two big mules belonging to H. E. Stevens, two Americans. General Wood, U. S. A., who was here on a tour of inspection, was immediately notified and he at once ordered a thorough investigation made, with the result that all the stolen stock, including that owned by Mr. Mascarenas, was returned to the Harrison pasture.

Joe Polin, one of Hermosillo's progressive successful business men, has this week been a business visitor in the city. Joe is an enthusiastic ball fan, and is taking a great interest in Nogales' Baseball League, organized this week, with Captain Mix as president.

Next week O. O. Saxhang will go out to the ranch of Donna-dieu Bros., the Nogales, Sonora, merchants, situated in the Altar district, in Sonora, a short distance south of the international line, where a big pumping plant will be installed under Mr. Saxhang's personal supervision.

Last Tuesday an undivided three-fifth interest in a group of nine mining claims situated in the Tyndall mining district, this county, belonging to the estate of the late Charles H. Ferry, were sold at public auction, at the door of the court, to W. H. Worthington, representative of the El Tigre Company, who has been in the city several days from Patagonia. The consideration was $5,000.

Selim M. Franklin, one of the state's most prominent, successful attorney-at-law, was a visitor in the city Wednesday from Tucson. While here Mr. Franklin succeeded in securing a judgment in favor of the Portland Mining Company in the suit of the executor of James S. McDonald's estate against the mining company, involving the title of the Golden Eagle group of mines situated in the Oro Blanco district, in this county. Superior Judge Frak J. Duffy heard the case.

Elgin B. Holt, "Silver King of Sonora," is here from the Cerro de Plata of which he is manager and principal owner. He reports the mine bigger and better than ever and prospects for making a million mighty good. Holt and his brother, Walter, have certainly earned all the good fortune they are having in Sonora. They worked like beavers down there many years, and their numerous old friends will be pleased to learn that they are high and dry on Old Easy Street.

Val Valenzuela, Jr., and Tom Gardner, of Patagonia, came down to the metropolis Wednesday evening, returning home after the Moose Smoker. Before the Smoker, Mr. Gardner and Jim Cotter, of this city, rode the Moose goat in the most approved style, to the fiendish delight of a big herd of local Bull Moose, all of whom had at some time in the past, taken a fall out of Mr. Goat. Mr. Valenzuela is a charter member of the local lodge, which is now comfortably located in the new C. T. Jones building on Grand avenue.

Lieutenant Richard Fleischer, who with Mr. Wm. Schuckmann of this city owns the Arizona-European Mining Company's producing mines near the Three R mine, was here the forepart of this week on business connected with his company. From here he went to Bloxton station, from where he is shipping a carload of ore to the Douglas smelter. The ore being high-grade copper, the lieutenant expects to realize better than $2,000 on the car. The A.-E. looks like a big winner, and the lucky owners are to be congratulated.

Last Monday afternoon General Wood, of the United States army, who arrived that morning from El Paso, on an inspection of the U. S. troops now stationed here, was tendered an informal reception at the Santa Cruz Club, where many prominent citizens and business men had the pleasure of meeting the distinguished officer, who in 1882 was stationed in Arizona, being at that time a surgeon in the army. During General Wood's sojourn in the city, he was chaperoned by Mayor L. W. Mix. The general and his staff departed for the north on the evening train.

Last Tuesday afternoon a special entertainment was given at the Lyric Theatre, by Romaine Fielding's Lubin people in honor of Captain Lon Haley, the veteran passenger conductor between here and Tucson. Before leaving for Philadelphia last week, to be gone a couple of weeks, Manager Fielding gave his people instructions that in case any movie productions of the local company, where shown here during his absence, his friend Captain Haley was to see them. The picture Tuesday was "Courageous Blood," one of Fieldings, made at Prescott. One of the numerous pictures taken in Nogales by the Lubin people, will be shown here on May 15th.

Don C. Franklin is now the sole owner of the Montezuma Bar, having on Wednesday purchased the interest of Homobono Marquez, in that popular wet-goods emporium. Don is a past-master in the business, besides being one of the finest fellows on earth. His numerous friends all over the country will join us in wishing him continued success. Mr. Marquez, who retires from the business, says he is going to take a good rest before again engaging in any business.

Harry Barnett, postmaster of Patagonia, and owner of valuable mining interests in the great Patagonia mining district, including the Happy Jack mines, was a visitor at the county seat Wednesday of this week, being accompanied by Mrs. Barnett. It is said that Mr. Barnett recently received a nice payment on a group of claims near Patagonia, bonded by California parties. He reported the Happy Jack claims looking better than ever, large bodies of high grade ore having been encountered while doing the annual assessment work. He has hopes of soon raising enough money with which to properly develop the property, which is considered second to none in the county. The best mine experts in the country say the Happy Jack has the making of a great paying mine.

Thursday evening Conductor John Henry returned from Hermosillo, where he went last Tuesday in charge of a state troop train, carrying G. Padres, paymaster for the state troops and a bunch of state troops from Naco. Mr. Henry states that everything is quiet at the capital city, but a bad feeling exists there between Governor Maytorena's followers and followers of Acting Governor Pesqueira. When Henry was in Hermosillo a trainload of state troops departed for the south presumably for Lencho, a station on the railroad, thence to Torin, four miles from the railroad, where there is said to be a big garrison of federal soldiers. After defeating the federals at Torin, a general assault will be made on Guaymas—maybe, Henry had been thirty-six hours without sleep when he got back to Nogales, and said he was about "all in."

Tom Fraser, who with W. A. McDonald has a lease on the Royal Blue mine in the Salero district, from which shipments of ore are being made to the El Paso and Douglas smelters, was a visitor at the county seat Thursday, having come down from Tucson where he had been on business, connected with the shipment of a carload of ore to Douglas. The Royal Blue is a patented mine situated on the Baca Float which has been in litigation more than fifty years, and from time to time ore has been shipped from the property without protest from claimants of the land grant. Now when Mr. Fraser is about to "make good" after much hard work and the expenditure of a great deal of money, so-called owners of the land grant, have bobbed up serenely, and want a look at the money. As a result the smelter people notified Mr. Fraser that he would have to put up a bond for three thousand dollars before they would pay him for the ore shipped from the Baca Float. Of course Tom said he'd see 'em damned first, and there you are.

John Hickman, representative of the Creston Colorado mines at Minas Prietas, has been here a couple of days, being the custodian of one hundred thousand dollars worth of gold bullion, brought here Wednesday from the famous old gold-producing camp. On account of the fact that the express company would not guarantee the safe delivery of the valuable cargo, Mr. Hickman brought with him to Nogales, Sonora, a guard of ten state soldiers. Upon its arrival here the express company took charge of the precious metal and transported it to San Francisco under special guard. Since getting rid of the bullion, Mr. Hickman has been busy with the assistance of Charley Holler, the broker, pulling all sort of wires in order to get permission from the American government to ship a carload of powder to his company at Minas Prietas. If permission is not secured soon the big mining camp will have to suspend operations at an enormous loss, and hundreds of miners and other employees will be out of work. When Hickman left the camp four days ago the supply of powder was very short and only prompt action on the part of our government will prevent serious trouble.
